

Lisette Mermod, Commercial Director and Mark Andrews, Banking Business Development Team Leader (pictured at right) and their teams have the pleasure of speaking to current and potential clients with new enquiries every day from around the globe. Hourly emails are exchanged and telephone conference calls arranged to allow banks and regulators, international training companies, their agents or representatives to speak directly with either a Risk Reward subject matter expert, and/or our commercial or logistics teams to answer questions, make points of clarification, prepare project proposals and course outlines, transfer documents and arrange travel as part of each and every Risk Reward consultancy or training assignment anywhere in the world.

To better meet the high growth in demand for Risk Reward consultants and trainers we are upgrading our telephone/data systems, have increased our staff and are relocating to new larger offices at 60 Moorgate, City of London, UK, (indeed, just a few doors down the street into the old Halifax House building) this summer.

Our new offices will also include up-to-date plasma screen with video conference facilities for discrete, in-house training upon request.

We look forward to meeting you when you are in London—and warm welcome awaits you.
